ProjectTip

Determining the Center of the Fabric
Unless otherwise indicated, always begin stitching the center of your design in the center of the fabric. To determine the exact center of the fabric, fold the fabric in quarters. Draw a strand of floss through the fabric at this point to mark the center. For some projects, it is helpful to baste along the two fold lines. Always use light-colored floss for basting so the floss does not leave any marks when it is removed. The point where the basting lines cross is the center of the fabric. When your stitching is complete, remove all basting stitches.
